Immediately caught behind by Beck, Joe embarks on a long and deadly journey to stay close to her regardless of the cost, leaving a trail of bodies in his wake. A year later, the second season of the romantic thriller is set to be published just in time for the holidays. We finally get to reunite with Joe, except he's not really Joe anymore. Our protagonist/real super villain moved to sunny Los Angeles with a whole new identity (Will Bettelheim, he calls himself), and he set his eyes on a new target: a woman solely named Love (Victoria Pedretti of Netflix's Haunting of Hill House). He has real chemistry with Love, and like Will, Joe is determined not to let things go sour like they did in the past. But you wouldn't be you if Joe's love life wasn't just a little complicated. This season its current is his ex-girlfriend Candace (Ambyr Childers), who we incorrectly assumed was dead. Dead. On Joe's tail and stop at nothing to avenge him... if he doesn't talk it up in the first place. With none left to testify after Joe's murder in a New York spree - he literally killed everyone - viewers will be greeted with a whole cast of fresh new faces in Los Angeles. Joining Badgley and Pedretti on the west coast are James Scully, Jenna Ortega, Carmela Zumbado, Robin Lord Taylor, Chris D'Elia, and Charlie Barnett.Season two of the sleeper hit Netflix series will be available to stream on December 26, and it promises to be even more exciting than the first. And unlike Beck, you'll definitely want to check the locks twice before you watch this one. Check out the trailer for the upcoming season below: below.
